October 20th

Third Thursday
6:30 pm

Each member speaks only for herself or himself. In the Home Group, the GSR brings our conscience to the DCM as it is shared among the Groups of our District. Groups draw upon the service of our committees. The Newsletter and Meeting List are distributed. All members are welcome to attend.

Our entire AA program rests squarely upon the principle of mutual trust.

"These servants must always be in readiness to do for the groups what the groups obviously cannot or should not do for themselves." The 12 Concepts, p. 23.

Many members who desire to serve beyond the Home Group find themselves walking through the door of the GSR and District Service Meeting. Generally, they have been sober over a year and recognize the Promises coming into their life. Gratitude has replaced despondency; the desire to give back is growing. When you are ready, please consider serving our Groups. All are welcome.

A New Group Is Formed

"Our membership ought to include all who suffer from alcoholism. Hence, we may refuse none who wish to recover. Nor ought AA membership ever depend upon money or conformity. Any two or three alcoholics gathered together for sobriety may call themselves an AA group, provided that, as a group, they have no other affiliation." Tradition Three

2006 Spring Conference

District 01 is seeking volunteers to serve at the '06 Spring Conference

District 01 is hosting the upcoming 2006 Spring Conference to be held at Comfort Suites in Green Bay on May 19, 20, 21.

This annual event serves Area 74 (Northern Wisconsin and Upper Michigan) which we are a part. There are 24 districts in Area 74. About 300 guests are expected to attend. Green Bay hosted the Conference in the late Nineties. Last year it was held in Eau Claire, WI.

Volunteers are needed for our district to have a smooth running event.

Areas of service include:

Program - determines the topics of the panels, and finds the speaker for Saturday night.

Hospitality - sets up the hospitality room.

Flyers - makes flyers and signs to direct traffic.

Greeters - welcome people to the event.

Decorations - decorate the banquet hall.

Registration - handles the registration and hands out the packets.

Alkathon - chairs the Alkathon meetings. Friday and Saturday have Alkathons from ten pm till six am.

Entertainment - procures the DJ and handles the skit for Friday night.

AI-Anon - organize the AI-Anon portion of the conference.

2 Hot Line Volunteers Needed

Our 24-hour Hot Line is in need of men and women volunteers with one year sobriety. Become available to answer questions and offer your experience, strength and hope. You are not tied to the phone and if a call comes at a wrong time, it can be declined. The Hot Line is volunteer friendly. Give Barb R. a call for more info, 437-6484.

Bridging The Gap/Treatment

The purpose of the Bridging the Gap is to connect AA members in a treatment or correctional center with Alcoholics Anonymous in our community. As a temporary contact you would meet with them, go to their first few meetings, and help them get acquainted and comfortable among new friends, talk about getting a Sponsor and a Home Group. To volunteer contact: Bruce K. 498-9750.

Newsletter/Meeting List

Groups are encouraged to post their activities, news and events in the newsletter. Please call in your group name for inclusion in our meeting list. Help keep our meeting list up to date and call in any changes. Contact: Marty S. email: martyvis@athenet.net or 465-1401

Public Information

A "P.I. visit" might include an opportunity to carry the message to schools, local businesses, church and civic groups. It could staff an AA Booth at health fairs in our community. Radio and television announcements can be arranged. Displays of AA literature can be placed and maintained in public areas; meeting lists distributed.

Because we are anonymous and do not promote ourselves, many in our community having no direct contact with AA are uncertain of who we are, what we do and how we do it. Public Information is that connection between AA and the alcoholic 'out there' who is still suffering. Please consider this essential committee when asking yourself, "How can I serve?" Contact Ben W. 491-4104 for more information.

Corrections

The A.A.'s that have been supporting the meeting at the Green Bay Correctional Institute are concerned that there are not any new people from the outside attending. The same group of people has supported it for many years. If they cannot attend, the meeting does not occur. New support from the outside is needed so that the meeting will be around for years to come. Contact: Lynn L. 496-5899 Call in the evening. CLEARANCE REQUIRED!

"Outside" A.A. men are needed for these meetings, as well as for that on the Brown County Jail and Huber Work Release program.

Sam S.'s particular service is to attend and distribute AA literature in our correctional facilities. Every now and then, he'll stop in to your Group seeking soft cover books or a donation to purchase some, but you don't have to wait. Contact Sam directly at 920-660-3341.

Example of Group Contributions to AA Service Entities

Distribution of funds from groups that support three service entities as suggested by a motion during our December 11th 04 GSR and District Service Meeting until District funds provide for a stable prudent reserve.

Third Step Prayer

God, I offer myself to Thee - to build with me and to do with me as Thou wilt. Relieve me of the bondage of self, that I may better do thy will. Take away my difficulties, that victory over them may bear witness to those I would help of Thy Power, Thy Love, and Thy Way of life. May I do Thy will always!

CONCEPT X

Every service responsibility should be matched by an equal service authority – the scope of such authority to be always well defined whether by tradition, by resolution, by specific job description or by appropriate charters and bylaws.

Concepts Checklist

- Do we understand "authority" and "responsibility" as they relate to group conscience decisions by GSRs, DCMs and our area delegates?
- Why is delegation of "authority" so important to the overall effectiveness of AA? Do we use this concept to define the scope of "authority?"

Nearly all societies and governments of today exhibit serious deviations from the very sound principle that each operational responsibility must be accompanied by a corresponding authority to discharge it.

Every service responsibility should be matched by an equal service authority.

... The first characteristic that any working structure must have is a point, or succession of points, where there is ultimate responsibility and therefore an ultimate authority. We have already seen how, for A.A.'s world services, this kind of final responsibility and authority resides in the A.A. groups themselves. And they in turn have apportioned some of their ultimate authority to the Conference and the Trustees.

... final responsibility and authority resides in the A.A. groups themselves.

We have observed how the Conference Delegates, directly representing the groups, are actually in a position of ultimate authority over the Trustees. We have seen further how the Trustees are in ultimate authority over the General Service Board's wholly-owned service corporations — A.A. World Services, Inc. and The A.A. Grapevine, Inc. Likewise we know that the directors of these corporations are in ultimate authority over their officers who, on their part, are in like authority over their staffs.

The principle of ultimate authority runs clear through our structure.

The principle of ultimate authority runs clear through our structure. This is necessary, because all of our service affairs and activities have to head up somewhere for final responsibility. Ultimate authority is also needed so that each worker or each classification of servants knows where and who the final boss is.

... Were there no delegated authority, the groups would be directing their Delegates on every important vote, the Delegates would similarly turn the Trustees into a timid committee which would receive point-blank direction on just about everything; the Trustees would then install themselves as the sole directors of the service entities and would commence to run them by directives. The corporate executives would become small czars, pushing the working staffs about. In short, such a misuse of ultimate authority would add up to a dictatorship wherein nearly every classification of A.A. servants would have large responsibilities but no real or certain authority, and hence no capability of effective decision and leadership with which to operate. Big or little tyrannies and buck-passing would be the inevitable penalties.

Therefore it becomes clear that ultimate authority is something which cannot be used indiscriminately. Indeed ultimate authority should practically never be used in full, except in an emergency. That emergency usually arises when delegated authority has gone wrong, when it must be reorganized because it is ineffective, or because it constantly exceeds its defined scope and purpose. For example, if the groups are dissatisfied with the Conference, they can elect better Delegates or withhold funds. If the Delegates must, they can censure or reorganize the Trustees. The Trustees can do the same with the service corporations. If a corporation does not approve of the operations of its executives or staff, any or all of them can be fired.

... if the groups are dissatisfied with the Conference, they can elect better Delegates or withhold funds.

These are the proper uses of ultimate authority, because they rightly discharge a truly ultimate responsibility. The influence of ultimate authority must always be felt, but it is perfectly clear that when delegated authority is operating well it should not be constantly interfered with. Otherwise those charged with operating responsibility will be demoralized because their authority to do their work will be subject to arbitrary invasion, and because their actual responsibility will be made greater than their real authority.

... In our structure we have tried to create at each level accurate definitions of authority and responsibility. We have done this (a) by legal means, (b) by traditional means, and (c) by principles under which doubtful and seemingly or really conflicting situations can be interpreted and readily resolved.

Take the Conference Charter. It is not a legal instrument, but practically speaking it is the substance of a contract between the A.A. groups and their Conference. The Charter makes clear in a general way that the A.A. groups have delegated some of their ultimate authority and all needed operational authority to the Conference, which includes the Trustees and the active services. It is further suggested, in these present articles, that each Conference member on a final vote be entitled to cast his ballot according to the dictates of his own conscience; that the Conference itself also be granted, under the traditional "Right of Decision," the privilege of choosing which matters it will decide by itself and which it will refer back to the groups for their discussion, guidance or direction. These are the traditional definitions which can check the natural tendency of the groups to over-instruct Delegates. This gives the Conference an authority equal to its real responsibility.

. . . In addition to the methods we use to make delegated authority equal to delegated responsibility, we have two more guarantees — the "Right of Appeal" and the "Right of Petition." As we know, a bare majority is apt to constitute itself as a pseudo-ultimate authority on many occasions when it should not do so. Likewise, executives are apt to over-boss their assistants. Therefore we use the concepts of appeal and petition to insure that every minority, and every worker doing a job, has an authority and a status commensurate with the responsibility involved.

. . . we see the "group conscience" as the ultimate authority and the "trusted servant" as the delegated authority.

To sum up: Let us always be sure that there is an abundance of final or ultimate authority to correct or to reorganize; but let us be equally sure that all of our trusted servants have a clearly defined and adequate authority to do their daily work and discharge their clear responsibilities.

All of this is fully implied in A.A.'s Tradition Two. Here we see the "group conscience" as the ultimate authority and the "trusted servant" as the delegated authority. One cannot function without the other. We well know that only by means of careful definitions and mutual respect can we constantly maintain a right and harmonious working balance.

Excerpts from, "The A.A. Service Manual Combined With Twelve Concepts for World Service," by Bill W., 2003-04 edition, p. 43 - 47, and "Concepts Checklist," SM F-91, with permission.

How many of us have had the 'responsibility' but not 'authority'; had good ideas but not the go-ahead to do them; began a project with enthusiasm but were interfered with to the point of discouragement? This Concept cautions us to leave well enough alone; to delegate the authority and resources necessary to those willing to serve and if authority or responsibility is abused, replace them or withhold the money. Keep it simple.

Few of us come to A.A. as leaders. Leadership is a form of spiritual progress when done honestly without thought of personal gain and generally manifests itself as a growing desire to give back what has been freely given. As we remain powerless before HP and seek guidance, we change and grow and recognize previously unseen opportunities to serve. This service fills a vital need while we develop self-respect and begin to see why, as individuals, we are priceless.

WHAT'S NEW IN THE WOLF'S DEN?

Just the ring of the date 9/11 brings one to remember our national tragedy and the hatred of those who harbor resentments toward us as a nation.

Closer to home, it reminds us that if we harbor resentments and do not work the critical 10th Step of our program on a continuing basis, we are on the road to disaster in our recovery.

The Tenth Step reads... "Continued to take personal inventory and when we were wrong promptly admitted it." This step is a continuing house cleaning way to look at our behavior and to work on the 'old alcoholic ways' that used to keep us in a troubled state and full of anger and guilt.

When those old behaviors crop up, we are aware of them and with the help of the principals of A.A. and the Steps, we are able to step back and make amends quickly. "It is a spiritual axiom that every time we are disturbed, no matter what the cause, there is something wrong with us."(P.90..12&12)

Is there not time for 'justifiable' anger? Hardly. Anger leaves us in an emotional hangover with more questions than answers. Few people are more victimized by resentments than us alcoholics. We must be quick to take responsibility for our mistakes and equally as quick to forgive those who may have wronged us. We achieve an emotional balance and find serenity in our dealings with others.

As situations arise, we do what is known as 'spot-checking'. Also, we take an inventory as we review our actions of that day. As we meditate and pray, we can as we grow, look back on many days with satisfaction that all we did was the 'best' we could do. Knowing there is always room for improvement, we claim spiritual progress rather than spiritual perfection.

As time progresses, we find we do this step more by nature and thus keep our house clean and seldom have those emotional hangovers. These emotional "dry benders" often led straight to the bottle. Other kinds of disturbances...jealousy, envy, self-pity and hurt pride did the same thing.

Nothing pays off more than restraint of tongue or pen. Treat others as you would like to be treated. You will find life much more serene and peaceful. I pray this step will become second nature in your growth in our program. Godspeed in your recovery.

Happy sobriety anniversary to those celebrating this month. As always..."Happy Birthday" to those born this month! Your Birthstone for October is the Opal/Tourmaline.

"After a While"

After a while you learn
the subtle difference between holding a hand and chaining a soul
and you learn
that love doesn't mean leaning and company doesn't always mean security.

And you begin to learn that kisses aren't contracts

and presents aren't promises and you begin to accept your defeats with your head up and your eyes ahead with the grace of woman, not the grief of a child.

And you learn
to build your roads in today because tomorrow's ground is uncertain and futures have a way of falling down
in mid-flight.

After a while you learn
that even sunshine burns
if you get too much
so you plant your own garden
and decorate your own soul instead of waiting for someone to bring you flowers.

And you learn that you really can endure
you really are strong
you really do have worth
and you learn
and you learn
with every goodbye, you learn.

And acceptance is the answer to all my problems today.
When I am disturbed, it is because I find some person, place,
